

MANAGING STAKEHOLDER CONFLICT

Conflict is everywhere....how does it affect you and your management of stakeholders?

Project Stakeholder Management is a NEW KNOWLEDGE AREA found in the latest version of PMI Guide to Project Management Body of Knowledge (PMBOK® Guide 5th Edition). It presents clearly the processes in managing stakeholders.

But good processes require good judgment and skillful execution. In the real world project managers need to deal with conflicting demands from various stakeholders. Some of these conflicts arise due to environmental factors while others are due to political, personality and economic factors. How do these conflicts affect you, your projects and your family? If you have these challenges in your projects, come to this workshop and explore various approaches to understanding more about your stakeholders, the nature of the conflicts and how to manage these conflicts better.

BENEFITS

By the end of this workshop, you should be better able to:

- Identify types of stakeholders and influencing tactics;
- Understand different communication styles that often are the cause for a conflict;
- Become more self-aware of personal conflicts and hot buttons that are unique to each person;
- Learn your anger styles that feed conflicts and find alternatives to channel it positively so as to influence and motivate stakeholders towards more effective conflict resolution.
